Art Linkletter wasn't off his form when he used to explain, "Kids say the darndest things." They also write, draw, perceive, and react in the darndest ways, too.

Kid humor is some of the brightest and funniest. All the classic joke books are crammed with juvenile funnies. Why? Because they don't know they're being cute. Truth is, don't call them the church of tomorrow; they aer a part of the church today!

The Gap In Christianity

Ron Coale

Facts are stubborn things. Truth is a stubborn thing. The truth of the matter is, the concentration camps in Germany were operated under the auspices of Adolph Hitler, Heidrick, Himmler, Eichman, Hess, Kurt Kronz, over at Tremblica and every one of these men was a Roman catholic. None of them were excommunicated from the Roman Catholic church. Now, it is true that you or your friends may not like that, but after all, in the search for truth and fact where the Holy Spirit is come to guide us into all truth, we're not interested in what you think about it. Or your friends. That type of rough orientation is necessary because you're never going to find out what happened to Christianity until you start facing facts. If you wonder why we have a blind, compromising, soft, effeminate, ineffectual Christianity, it's because Christians don't know their background. They don't know the lessons of history. They don't know that the way they feel is exactly like any demon-possessed person felt when their favorite god was attacked.

Certain things speak for themselves regardless of your feelings about it. People who think that Roman Catholicism is not a fascist system for torture and murder, are call BIGOTS! A bigot is somebody who refuses to face a fact. When it comes to bigotry, the evolutionist and the Roman catholic may be the most prejudice bigots on the face of this earth. You say that's just your opinion. No! The second law of thermodynamics, one of the three laws upon which all physics are founded, teaches there is entropy in a closed system. As entropy increases, randomness increases. That is, to be an evolutionist you must be just a little bit touched in the head. The facts are, the sun is burning out. The facts are, the earth is cooling off. The facts are, the vegetation is smaller back when it was back yonder. The facts are your dying. The facts, according to uranium breakdown and carbon fourteen is, things are degenerating and falling apart. Those are facts proved eventually by a coffin, a shovel, and a pile of dirt. But a bigot won't accept the fact. If the Lord didn't slap them finally shut and shut their mouths and bury them, they would rise up from the grave and tell Him there is no death. Like Mary Baker Eddy tried to do.

Now all fascist systems are alike. Every system to improve the world and bring in peace is a fascist system that will kill to do it. That's the lesson of history. The lesson of history is, the only way you can have peace is by killing. That's the lesson! You

Plowing, sowing, watering

The agricultural metaphors remain quite true to form and reality as regards the labor of getting the pure truth of the word of God out to a spiritually blind world of lost souls, especially in these “perilous times” of “the last days,” and for us, in this “new field,” as yet unplowed by Scriptural truth (as opposed to religious poisoning). We have been steadily plowing and sowing the seed in personal one-to-one contact (tracts coupled with personal testimony, etc.) as well as in more large-scale public ministry settings (mass tracting, street-preaching, and personal work with those willing to take the time), and watering with the very few with whom we have repeated contact (i.e.: in day-to-day affairs), and remain in patient waiting for the “precious fruit” (James 5:7) that only the word of God and the work of the Holy Spirit can produce (I Corinthians 3:6). The external profession (and accompanying spirit) of so-called atheism and agnosticism is very prominent here, at least in response to a clear personal statement of the exclusivity of CHRIST and the Bible, as well as the personal need of each human soul to respond receptively to them. The most recent statistics indicate that Chileans are 25% atheist/agnostic/irreligious, nationally; my personal estimate here in this area would be around 40-50%, based on interpersonal dialogues thus far (however well the conversation might seem to have been going initially, upon turning to matters of CHRIST and the Bible, one can almost “see” the “lights go off” and the defensive walls/blinders rise in the mind and heart of the other participant). In spite of that, there have actually been several individuals whom have demonstrated apparent sincerity in at least being willing to pursue the subject. Among these may be mentioned Hugo, a very confused religionist (catholic, evangelical, whatever; they’re essentially all the same here) who at once agrees that salvation is solely by grace through faith in CHRIST alone but in the next breath proceeds to explain that his good works are how he expects to earn God’s favor. Also of note was Ali, a Turkish muslim, who wanted to talk international politics at first, but was then willing to engage in a superficial “comparison” of CHRIST and the Bible with Muhammed and the Koran [as if there were any “comparison” possible; well, “all things to all men,” I suppose!]. To his credit, Ali recognized immediately and stated quite clearly that the only real “issue” was that I believe the Bible and he does not, and then surprised me by accepting the Johannine Challenge (verbally, at least); I am currently awaiting his call to bring him the promised Bible so that he may “know of the doctrine, whether it be of God” (John 7:17), or “Allah.” There have been some few that have given cause to the expectation of regular “watering” in some kind of programmed Bible study, but the actual step of acting on such a commitment is yet lacking. We ask that you continue to pray for the LORD to be going ahead of us doing His preparatory work in the hearts of those whom we will encounter “in the way” (and to get them in our way, for sure) and to be the “rereward” in His reproving work, following after the delivery of the “precious seed” to each heart.

The brethren in Valdivia, Paillaco, and Osorno

As the “dust” continues to settle from what was a very unpleasant situation in the churches in Valdivia and Paillaco, the Holy Spirit advises (via both Scripture and good brotherly counsel) prudence and discretion in broadcasting specific details, which would serve to further the malfeasant ends of certain “unruly and vain talkers” that have been going about sowing discord, subverting souls and seeking to “overthrow the faith of some.” In this, those whom have remained standing firmly recognize that “we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers,” etc., and that the “roaring lion” which “walketh about, seeking whom he may devour” is not to be taken lightly as an “adversary.” Simultaneously, these faithful brethren have learned much about the practical value of Biblical concepts such as charity, compassion, forgiveness, and the unity of the Spirit (with emphasis on each of those as according to the Scriptures, not human psycho-social definitions), and so, with them at least, the LORD “wins,” again [“I speak as a fool,” and only as regards the short-term, of course (I’ve read Revelation 21-22 as well, glory to God!)]. In sum, a “remnant” are going forward in that to which they know the LORD has called them, with HIM, and they would greatly appreciate your prayer support. We trust implicitly in the spiritual maturity and vision of you, our faithful prayer intercessors who have upheld us and this ministry for years, to be capable of continuing to pray “with the spirit” and “with the understanding also” (I Corinthians 14:15) for them and the situation as a whole, without requiring the posting of a detailed itemization of each article of “dirty laundry.” [Most of which, I am here permitted to comment, wasn’t “dirty” in the first place, and/or was taken out of other “hampers”; ‘nuff said...] Additionally, Bro. David and family (our daughter Rosalyn and grandkids Helen and Martin) have been visiting the brethren in Osorno every few weeks to minister the word to them and enjoy the fellowship of the saints, and although they continue to be few in number, we thank the LORD that the “smoking flax” there has not been “quenched.”

We had some visits

Speaking of David, Rosalyn, Helen and Martin, “Grandpa” and “Grandma” were very personally blessed to have received the whole family here in Punta Arenas during the last week of this month. [Hey, grandkids, right? What more can be said? Yes, it was nice to see David and Rosalyn, too, and we remain very grateful to them for having given us the grandkids, of course, of course!] Bro. David joined us in our public ministry outing yesterday, and it was probably the best public sermon delivered in the central plaza of this city, well, ever. There were quite a few of teenagers and young people there (at least 20 or 30), doing their adolescent “hanging-out” thing, just about all of whom willingly received the tracts, and it was clear that several of them were really listening to the message, not just mocking and “blowing us off,” as is usually the case in such encounters; please pray for the eternal effect in them that we did not see visibly at the time. Earlier in the month, we also had a visit from Sister Sarah Cagle, in country briefly to tie up the loose ends of her Permanent Residence Visa process, as reported last month; after that had been attended to in Valdivia (where she also spent time with the brethren of the 2 churches), she came here for a week. A heartfelt Thank-You to her dad’s (Bro. David Cagle) King James Bible Society sending us a suitcase full of Spanish Bibles and various titles of Chick and other tracts. Sister Cagle expects to be returning more permanently sometime early next year, so please remain in prayer for her and her family as they go forward in the LORD. “Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you.”

In Christ,

want peace in China, you exterminate fourteen million Chinese that disagree with you. You want peace in Russia, you exterminate eight million. You want peace in Germany, you exterminate six million. Those things happened. The people were exterminated. How you feel about the system is immaterial. If you subscribe to socialism, or communism, or fascism, or Catholicism, that's your business. One road to hell is just as good as another. What the facts of history show, is that any system set up to bring in peace on earth, without Jesus Christ coming back is a system that will torture and murder to obtain its end.

Church History concentrates on the progress of Christianity from Acts 28 on. It is the focal point of western civilization. Not knowing the influence of the catholic church on the world empires causes continual repetition of the same errors. Anybody not familiar with the history of the Roman Catholic church is condemned to die for a false cause on this earth. If you want the documented evidence on the past history of the catholic church, you'll find it in the works of John Carrera, or especially Avro Manhattan, or the highly documented, scientific work of Paul Blanshard. Anybody who doesn't know the influence of the Roman Catholic church on the western world empires must continually repeat the same errors. There has been no cure known to God or man for a man who is wise in his own conceit.

The Holy Spirit who came, came here to guide and lead the Christian to all truth. And, he'll testify of the truth, not a lie. A good example is in Viet Nam. In Saigon a Buddhist monk sat down in the streets and burned himself to death after sending one of Kennedy's Roman Catholic friends, the archbishop, and head of the secret police, plus the President, they all belong to the same church a note saying enforce a policy of religious equality. This was done after the Buddhist flag was torn down, the Buddhist temples closed on Buddha's birthday, while the pope's flag flew around and the Catholics celebrated the mass, and everybody observed Christmas. In Ireland the newspaper reporters were told "Our job is to fight for our rights and overthrow Ulster, and we have the right to do it according to their principles". Once we're in the majority they have no right to rise against us because our principles teach that nobody can rise against us. That's the official statement of Engels, Trotsky, and the communist party. The official statement is we have the right to revolt but, once we have established a government nobody has the right to revolt against us.

All fascist systems are the same. Some of them are called communism. Some of them are called socialism. Some of them are called Catholicism. They are all the same black cat. If you study history, you know that and if you don't you don't. Christian's refuse to face the facts because of accusations of being a bigot or being prejudice. With the tremendous pressure of the left-wing communist press on Christian's all over the country, they are so afraid of those two terms, bigotry and prejudice, they are afraid to take a negative attitude toward anything that the world takes a positive attitude towards. If you want to see how wild it can get, you watch all the world mourning the destruction of Babylon Revelations 17 and crying and casting dust on their heads and weeping and wailing and gnashing their teeth while the saints up in heaven are rejoicing and saying hallelujah. Did you ever read those passages in Revelations 17, 18, and 19 about the city built on the seven hills, whose cup was a golden cup and whose colors were purple and scarlet?

Now the reason why the modern Christian is afraid of the word's bigotry and prejudice is that he's ignorant. He doesn't know the manner of Rome. If you studied Church History and knew Church History you would never worry about anybody calling you a bigot when you made a statement like "The most damnable influence on the face of this earth outside of atheistic communism is the Vatican State", and you wouldn't worry about what people thought. Backgrounds in Church History equip you to face a hostile world that is still against God. It lets you get your bearings and know your moorings and your lashings and your anchor so that you can take the stand that a Christian should take. The people of Martin Luther's day said, "the whole world is against you", He said, "all right then, I'm against it". John said "love not the world neither the things in the world". Paul said, "Be not conformed to this world". Christ said, "I pray not for this world". Paul said, "Christ came to deliver you from this present evil world". The one you are living in! There is nothing in the world that will give you a spiritual, divine, hatred for the world system, which you should have, like knowing what it has done to Biblical Christianity between Acts 28 and where you are now.

When using the word, "hate", some Christian's almost have a heart attack. Because, In the first place they rejected the statements of their savior when He said, "if any man comes after me and hate not his mother father sister daughter son wife and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple". In the second place they rejected their saviors warning that "that which is highly esteemed among men is an abomination in the sight of God". In the third place they rejected the Biblical statement which said, "These six things doth the Lord hate, a lying tongue, a false witness", and then he listed a whole bunch of them.

This last generation of Christian's that came up, since 1940, are Bible rejecting Christian's, who profess to believe it. Where it crosses the world system, they won't take any of it. ~
